MPL Receives Young Canada Works Grant for Wikipedian in Residence

Milton Public Library is delighted to be the recipients of the Young Canada Works Grant to employ a Wikipedian in Residence, a first for a Canadian Public Library. In doing so this will support MPL's efforts to ensure the accuracy and reliability of information, online.

While in this instance it will be specifically related to Wikipedia, staff at MPL are working with a range of regional, national and international partners to bring this vision to life. Watch this space for more details as the further projects come to fruition.

For any queries related to the project please contact Mark Williams, MPL's Chief Librarian at mark.williams@beinspired.ca.

About MPL:

Serving one of the fastest-growing municipalities in North America, Milton Public Library (MPL) is a multi-award winning public library focussed on innovation and service excellence. The Library's updated service delivery model is founded on community-led concepts and partnerships and has been highly effective, to the point that MPL now has the highest rate of active cardholders of any large Canadian Library (68% of residents are active members!).

MPL empowers the community to Read. Learn. Create. Connect. and Be Inspired by all MPL has to offer.
